South Jersey Vet Center ribbon-cutting ceremony set for June 22

EGG HARBOR TOWNSHIP, N.J. — On Saturday, June 22, 2019, the South Jersey Vet Center will host a ribbon-cutting ceremony and open house for its new location at 2900 Fire Road in Egg Harbor Township.

Speakers scheduled to give remarks include U.S. Rep. Jefferson Van Drew, 2nd Congressional District; Dr. Lisa Hou, deputy adjutant general of the New Jersey National Guard; Michael Fisher, chief officer of Readjustment Counseling Services; and Vincent Kane, director of the Wilmington VA Medical Center.

The ribbon-cutting ceremony will be followed by an open house to commemorate the 40th anniversary of Vet Centers providing readjustment counseling to Veterans, active-duty service members, and their families.

The South Jersey Vet Center, previously located at Ventnor City, has served Veterans of southern New Jersey since 1985. For more information visit: <https://www.vetcenter.va.gov/>.
